Cookie policy

Please read the following Cookie Policy:

The terms listed below are given the following definitions:
1. "Website" - the website available at https://justreview.co/;
2. "User" - a natural person acting on his/her behalf or for a legal person or an organizational unit without legal personality, but having legal capacity, who used the Website by browsing the web page available at https://justreview.co/;

3. „User's equipment" or "End device"- the telecommunications equipment belonging to the User such as, inter alia, a mobile phone, smartphone, computer, tablet or other mobile device with access to the Internet (a telecommunications device intended to be connected directly or indirectly to terminals network).

What are cookies and how are they used?

Cookies are small text files sent and saved by the Website on the User's End device, containing data on the User's use of the Website ("Cookies"). Cookies are safe for User's Equipment, they enable the use of the Website.
The information collected by Cookies makes it easier for the User to use the Website, remember the User's preferences and adapt the Website to his needs, in particular these files allow to recognize the User's device and properly display the Website. Cookies are also used to create statistics on Website visits, which allows you to improve the quality of the Website by improving its structure and content, thereby adapting it to the needs of Users.
The site generally uses the following types of Cookies:
    a. Permanent files - they are stored on the User's End device until they are deleted by the User or for the time resulting from their settings.

    b. Session files - temporary files that are stored on the User's End device until logging out, leaving the page or turning off the web browser.

    c. User files - files used for more than one session to: identify products or services added to the basket/favorites section on the Website - so that the User after closing the browser and re-opening it would still have previously added products or services in the basket/favorites.

    d. Third-party files - files such as, in particular, supporting Google Analytics statistics, and other external entities, allowing ad tailoring to Users' preferences and habits.

Can Cookies be turned off?

If you do not want cookies on the End device, these files can be turned off. It is likely that after disabling cookies the User will not have access to some content of the Website, using the Website may be less effective for the User, and the use of services may also be more difficult.

Restrictions or exclusions of the use of Cookies can be made by the User through appropriate changes in the web browser's settings. These settings can be changed by the User in particular in such a way as to block the automatic handling of Cookies or to inform about each time they are placed in the User's End Device. Detailed information on how to handle Cookies is available in the settings of web browsers.

How do we use cookies?

We use cookies to analyse our traffic. We also share information about your use of our site with analytics partners:

Google Analytics

We use their JS script to collect website traffic statistics.

Google Ads

We use their cookies to set, customize and personalize advertisements shown to Users.

Facebook Ads

We use these cookies to make recommendations for our Users, based on their previous web search.

Facebook Pixel

We use Facebook Pixel for remarketing purposes; we use it's JS code to buy ads on Facebook and target them to our Users.

HotJar

We use their cookies to analize traffic on our website. Hotjar uses cookies and other technologies to collect data about the behavior of Users and their devices (in particular, the device's IP address (intercepted and stored in anonymous form only), browser information, geographic location (country only), preferred language used to display our website or other statistic data.

Chargebee

We use their cookies to process payments on our website.

The cookie will not be used for any purpose other than the one stated.